Due to the nature of the jacquard weave customisation, small details, such as small fonts may not be visible clearly on the finished product. Please keep this in mind with your design.

Due to the characteristics of the process, to achieve the best results, we recommend using light blue for the main direction or one colour design when customising items on socks, as existing environmental light may be too dark and light blue is more visible and requires a longer production lead time.

Due to the characteristics of the process, adding wrong labels, PVC gripper dots or embroidery may increase the time to finish the pre-production sample and the final production. Please talk to us before placing your order.

Due to differences in the composition of the materials used in different parts of the socks, i.e. elastic being present in the top band and not on the toe of the sock, there may be slight differences in the pantone colour achieved in the final product.
