Description

The Nomad Rechargeable Fan is a compact and portable personal fan designed for the desk, the commute, or anywhere you need a cool breeze on demand. Five speed settings give you full control, tap to move quickly through the settings or hold to adjust one step at a time. An LED display on the front shows both the current battery level and fan speed at a glance, so you always know exactly where you stand. The built-in base stand keeps it upright and hands-free on any flat surface. A 1200mAh rechargeable battery keeps it going between charges, powered via the included USB A to Type C cable. Finished in white and presented in a kraft tuck box. Material: ABS
