Description

A gel pen with a fidget ball built into the barrel — spin it through a long call, tap it through a meeting, write with it when there’s actually something to write. The rubberised double-injection grip is comfortable enough that it earns its place on the desk regardless of the fidget, and a coloured stylus on the end works on phones and tablets. Six barrel colours, black gel ink, 250m of writing distance. Good fit for schools and universities, delegate packs, trade shows, youth programs and creative agencies — the giveaway that outlasts the walk to the car park.
