Description

The Axial by Nomis introduces a new era of portable power. Designed for those who value performance and precision, this premium 10,000mAh power bank combines advanced solid state battery technology with seamless magnetic wireless charging. Finished in refined black and presented in an all-black Nomis branded gift box with custom foam insert, encased in a printed outer sleeve, Axial arrives as beautifully as it performs. Powered by next-generation solid state battery technology, Axial moves beyond traditional lithium-ion construction. By utilising a solid electrolyte rather than a liquid one, solid state batteries offer improved thermal stability, enhanced safety, reduced long-term degradation, and more efficient energy transfer. The result is a more reliable, forward-thinking power solution engineered for modern devices. With 15W fast charge capability and integrated wireless charging, Axial features a magnetic phone attachment designed for iOS devices to ensure precise alignment and secure hold while charging. An adhesive magnetic ring is included for Android devices, enabling the same magnetic functionality. Dual Type C connections support versatile wired charging, and a premium black 50cm Type C to Type C cable is supplied. Material: Aluminium, ABS
